Equality impacts

The Public Sector Equality Duty requires public bodies, in the exercise of their functions, to have due regard to the need to:

- Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation and other conduct prohibited by the Act.
- Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not.
- Foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not.

Within this table, state whether the policy, function or service will have a positive or negative impact across the following protected characteristics and provide any comments.

	Positive Impact	Negative Impact	Comments
Age	X		Specifically identified for support as regard parental eviction.
Disability			No differential impact.
Sex / gender reassignment / pregnancy or maternity			No differential impact.
Race			No differential impact.
Religion or belief			No differential impact.
Sexual orientation			No differential impact.

What evidence do you have for the statements made in question 10?

Action 3 under the 'Avoidance' section of the strategy specifically identifies the need to support this group with early intervention.

12	Consultation: Describe what consultation has been undertaken on this function, policy or service, who was involved and the outcomes. There were 3 rounds of consultation with statutory and voluntary partners. The first 2 were concerning the Homelessness Review which informs the strategy, and finally the draft strategy document was circulated for consultation for 2 weeks at the beginning of July 2018.
13	Briefly explain how the policy, function or service contributes to community cohesion by answering the following questions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • How will it provide equality of access to services, information and employment? The strategy is designed to meet the legal commitment to ensure that households that need advice and assistance receive it. The strategy gives prominent regard to the household type and other demographic information in the profiling of housing need. • Does it or could it promote good relationships within and between communities? NA • How will it help to prevent social exclusion? Homelessness can lead to social exclusion, therefore avoidance and prevention of homelessness can reduce the likelihood of social exclusion. • Will it help to reintegrate those who have become excluded? Provision of housing can promote access to services and reintegration for persons who were formerly of no fixed address. • Will this assist with communities feeling that they are connected to decision making that affects them? NA • How will it provide good quality, inclusive services? The Homelessness Strategy is informed by the Homelessness Review which collected evidence from a variety of sources to evaluate how best we can respond to homelessness in our community.

14	Health impacts – screening question
	Will the subject of this EHIA:
		No (provide a brief explanation of your response)	Yes (Is this impact positive or negative? provide a brief explanation of your response)
	Have a direct impact on health, mental health and wellbeing?		Yes – avoiding or preventing homelessness which reduce stress and therefore have a positive impact on wellbeing.
	Have an impact on social, economic and environmental living conditions that would indirectly affect health?		Yes – some households are removed from poor environmental conditions in the home and placed in more suitable housing.
	Have an effect on an individual's ability to improve their own health and wellbeing?		Yes – a Personal Housing Plan would include actions for the homeless household.
Affect access to, and the quality of, health, mental health or wellbeing services?	No - although there will be some instances where the team refer or seek the support of health professionals.
Please refer to the EHIA guidance document. If you answer yes to any of these questions a health impact assessment is required, please complete section 16.
15	Head of Service signature: I am satisfied with the results of this EHIA.
